A blurred background image of a crowded indoor exhibition space, likely a trade show or fair. In the foreground, the back of a person's head and shoulders are visible, wearing a blue shirt and a grey backpack. To the right, another person is seen from the side, wearing a blue shirt and a large green and black backpack. In the background, several people are standing and talking, and a bicycle is partially visible. There are green exit signs on the wall and a large banner with the letters 'RA' in the upper right corner.
